Save the date! On Saturday, February 21, Mentonians will have a rare opportunity to hear an iconic trio, The Rising Fawn String Ensemble. For roughly ten years from the mid-70’s to the mid-80’s, this trio toured the lower 48 states in a wide variety of performances and recordings. Their music was to have a broad influence on musicians for many years. They have graciously agreed to perform in concert at Moon Lake Community Library at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, February 21. All ticket proceeds will go directly to the library to support and enrich its ongoing contributions to the community. Admission is only $10 and will include free refreshments. There is limited seating, so it is expected that all tickets will be sold well before the performance date. CD’s will also be available for purchase.

The members of the Library Board are excited about this historic performance and invite you to share in and enjoy the music of this longstanding trio. Tickets will be available soon from library Board Members Jerome Stephens, Jim Byrum, Tom Emory, Donna Sutton, Dianne Kuehl, Barbara Stoll, Bill Berry and Liz Baker.
MENTONE MATTERS

By Mayor Rob Hammond

Several years ago I had a friend who said to me, “Hammond, y’all have a bunch of granola bars at Mentone.” I asked for clarification and he said you know, “nature nuts.” I laughed and said yes, and that’s a good thing. In the 80’s there was talk of a possible landfill near the east fork of Little River. In response we held a town hall meeting in Mentone. On the panel for the meeting were Talmadge Butler, Superintendent, DeSoto State Park, Jim Russell, Administrator, DeKalb County Health Department, and Dr. Doug Williams, University of Alabama and Alabama Public Television. The topic was “Does Little River Need Protection?” As a result of the meeting The Friends of Little River was formed. It was truly a grassroots organization that attempted to include all stakeholders. Under the leadership of Desmond Disney and the hard work of many, Little River was designated in 1991 an Outstanding Natural Resource Water (ONRW) which gives the highest level of protection to the river to prevent future pollution. After reaching that milestone the Friends of Little River faded away as an active organization. However many of us still keep a close eye on the river. Angie and Bill Shugart of One World Adventure are Little River water keepers. Mary Shew of the National Park Service has been monitoring the water quality of Little River for many years. The Top of Alabama Regional Council of Governments has conducted water quality studies on all three forks of the river.

Unfortunately in today’s political climate labels are not always accurate. Today if someone is an environmentalist it is assumed that they are anti-business. In Mentone and on Lookout Mountain nothing could be further from the truth. DeKalb County is selling clean air, clean water, and our natural beauty to get folks to come here, stay, and spend money. We have to protect the crown jewels of our tourism industry—Little River, DeSoto State Park, Little River Canyon National Preserve and the surrounding areas.

We have been blessed with one of the most beautiful areas in God’s creation. It is our obligation to be good stewards and protect it.

From The Editor

Hunker Down,

New Year’s celebrations, football games, baseball games, and more football games seem to crowd out other thoughts and conversations during January. Not much going on in February except Cupid and his little magical arrows on Valentine’s Day. When I was young, February was a time for pruning fruit trees, checking the seed supply for spring planting, and making sure we had this years copy of the Farmer’s Almanac to guide our planting time decisions.

Mentone is really “laid back” during February unless weather conditions allow skiing on Alabama’s only ski slope. Some hardy souls continue to hike and bike our mountain trails and still enjoy nature with all its wet and foggy cold. For most folks it’s just hunker down time with family and friends and go out only when absolutely necessary.

Mentone’s volunteer organizations use February as a time to begin planning for this year’s many events, festivals and celebrations. While not much of a rush yet, the plans get discussed, made and changed depending on money, talent availability, and inclination and expertise of the planners. The spiritual, emotional, and physical requirements are similar to those exerted by farmers and gardeners getting ready for spring. However, now its lots of meetings, phone calls and e-mails instead of pruning, reading and checking.

My sister gave me an old picture of the kids down on the farm when they were young. The old farm house, the barn, the pond, the fields, even the bumper sticker on the car brought back special, happy memories of times when I thought only my parents were getting old. One little picture brought a flood of happiness--keep your old pictures.

we believe provides a broad base of community input and support. The Board is unusual in the manner of its formation—it is composed of “positions” from other local non-profit and governmental organizations. The Board is made up of: Mayor of Mentone, President of Lookout Mountain Camp Association, President of Mentone Educational Resources Foundation, President of Mentone Area Arts Council, President of Mentone Business Association, President of Mentone Area Preservation Association and Director of DeKalb Tourism and two (2) at large Directors appointed by the President of the Mentone Arts and Cultural Center Board.

Currently, the MACC board includes Rob Hammond, Marsha Hurt, Kristen Emory, Bob Hoffman, Ray Padgett and John Dersham. The two at-large members are Bill Berry and Hank Willet. The Mentone Area Arts Council President position is currently vacant so that position on our Board is also vacant. They plan to elect a new President at their next meeting. Mentone Arts and Cultural Center officers are: Ray is President, Kristen is Vice-President, Rob is Treasurer and Marsha is Secretary.

We are excited about the potential of the Mentone Arts and Cultural Center and believe it will be a tremendous catalyst for the creation and promotion of art and music in our area. Updates of progress will be included in future issues of The Groundhog and other media outlets.

ABOUT GROUNDHOG DAY

ccording to Wikipedia, Groundhog Day is a day celebrated on February 2nd each year. According to folklore, if it is cloudy when a groundhog emerges from its burrow on this day, then spring will come early; if it is sunny, the groundhog will supposedly see its shadow and retreat back into its burrow, and the winter weather will persist for six more weeks.

Modern customs of the holiday involve celebrations where early morning festivals are held to watch the groundhog emerging from its burrow.

In southeastern Pennsylvania, Groundhog Lodges celebrate the holiday with fersommlinge, social events in which food is served, speeches are made, and one or more plays or skits are performed for entertainment. The only language spoken at the event, and those who speak English pay a penalty, usually in the form of a nickel, dime, or quarter per word spoken, with the money put into a bowl in the center of the table.

The largest Groundhog Day celebration is held in Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania, with Punxsutawney Phil.

Shopping in Mentone

By Robert Hoffman, MBA President

Winter--what a great time to be running a business in Mentone. You have plenty of time to relax, take a nap, catch up on email, and try to figure out how to encourage more shoppers to stop by. For most of the year, running a successful business in Mentone is merely a matter of trying to figure out how to get a few of the weekend shoppers to stop by your shop and then having something they might be interested in purchasing. In winter, there's the double challenge of having many weekends with virtually no shoppers. We occasionally get a few hardy souls that come up to check out the ski run and then decide to wander into Mentone to see what's here. Or there are those that come here to eat and happen to notice that there are shopping opportunities here -- although many seem to drive in, eat, and drive out. In general, however, many of the local shop-owners often spend much of their weekends twiddling their thumbs, hoping an occasional shopper will stop in. However, for all these same reasons, it actually is a great time to be shopping in Mentone. No crowds and sellers are, as they say, highly motivated.

At our monthly MBA meetings, we often spend time just throwing around ideas on how to encourage more shoppers. We occasionally come up with an idea like November's Open House Weekend that turns out to be a success and provides a welcome bit of additional income for some of the shops. We're always willing to hear new ideas, so we invite all of you Groundhog readers to come on by if you have ideas you'd like to share. You don't have to own a business to take part in our MBA meetings, just have an interest in helping maintain a successful shopping environment in Mentone.

In my role as webmaster for the MyMentone.com website, I try to keep up with changes in the businesses here as much as possible to ensure the accuracy of my online directory and downtown map. I try to make it uptown every weekend to see what new businesses are starting up, which ones are moving where, and (sadly) which ones are shutting down. One thing I've noticed in the five years that Joyce and I have operated the Art Gallery @ Mentone here is that the shops around town seldom stay vacant for very long. I think that's due to two factors: One is that we have a large number of people in the area that have a talent or product that they want to share, and the other is that Mentone is gaining a reputation for being an artsy-craftsy mountain village where tourists like to visit and shoppers come looking for unusual and fascinating items, thus a good location to start a new business. I think it's great that this is the case and am hoping that the MBA can do its part to ensure that these factors continue to be true. To do this, it's obviously necessary that we need to continue to find ways to help these shop-owners market their products and make enough to sustain a business, and we need to do what we can to maintain and enhance the town's reputation.

One thing that we can all do to help is to shop locally whenever possible. We all know that we can get gasoline a few cents cheaper at Walmart, but isn't it better to fill up here and make sure we continue to have our two, much-appreciated service stations? Likewise, there are many products available in Mentone that can be purchased a bit cheaper elsewhere; but if the difference is small, why not do your part to help the town and buy those products locally? If you'll go to MyMentone.com and click the Directory menu choice, you'll find all of our businesses listed by category -- Art, Clothing, Food, Gifts, Lodging, Storage and Woodcraft. The next time you're planning to drive into Fort Payne to shop, you might want to review that directory to see if what you want might be available right here in Mentone. Many of these shops have websites displaying their products and you'll find links to these sites on the Directory page.

I've often heard complaints about visitors (and locals) not knowing when various shops are open. To address this, we've started producing a Daily Openings List that tells who is open each day of the week. This list is updated every few months or whenever businesses come or go, and when other significant changes occur. A copy of the list can be printed by going online to MyMentone.com, Wilma keeps a copy of the latest one on the Town Hall bulletin board, and there are copies in the Mentone Market's Visitor Information Center.

Shopping locally helps the Mentone shop owners, but it also helps the town. Every time you pay a sales tax here, part of that goes to the town treasury to provide funding for many things around town. So when you shop locally, you're not only helping your friends and neighbors that run the businesses, you're helping yourself and the town by providing the money needed to help keep the town beautiful and functioning.

Our next MBA meeting is the 3rd Monday of February, the 16th, from 6:00 to 7:00 and you're all invited. It will likely be at the MERF House, but check MBA.MyMentone.com to make sure. As we say every month, join us, contribute your ideas, and help us help the local businesses to be as successful as possible.

Tiger CHAMPS will have our first meeting of 2015 on February 2nd at 6pm in the library. Sixth grade will be hosting this meeting. We encourage all parents and community members to attend. A sincere “thank you” to all who continue to support our school and educational program.
Food, Love and Valentines

Authors, poets, and playwrights have attempted to capture “Love” in words for thousands of years. Their work speaks to us all of the enduring power of love throughout history. We woman do enjoy a beautiful poem, sweet words from our beloved, the cards, the candy, perhaps a diamond or two (I had to say it!), but I have always heard that the unfailong way to your man’s heart is straight through his stomach! Now, if you want to invoke the feelings in your true love that make him want to bring those things to you, cook that man a dog gone delicious meal! Nothing says I Love You like a home cooked meal to a man.

I had to have a little fun with this one. But, by all means, if you have a tradition of going out for Valentine’s Day, do your thing. I say, ship the kids out, stay in and you can refill your plate all you want! That’s just my thought! Whatever way you decide to spend your day together, I wish you all a wonderful Valentines this year! And I have said before, don’t save it all for this holiday, show your special ones Valentine’s Love every day!

Orange Basmati Rice
The perfect companion for your chops! Just in case you are not familiar with basmati rice, it’s simply a different cut of rice. You can use any rice you have. Just remember, if you are using instant rice, follow the directions for that, as far as amount of liquid. Regular rice, of course is a two to one ratio of water to rice.

In a sauce pan heat 1 tbsp of butter, then add 1 c basmati rice to coat. Now add to that, ¾ c orange juice and ¾ c water. Bring to a boil, reduce heat to simmer, cover and stir occasionally, until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed. I suggest adding 2 finely chopped scallions and a little orange zest if you have it!
I hope everyone has a wonderful Valentine’s Day! Happy cooking!

Grilled Pork Chops with Apricot Glaze
For any grilled chops, I suggest using bone in, ¾ to 1 in thick cuts. They hold their moisture and are absolutely delicious. Now, I urge you to do a bit of prep for this one. Though it is not mandatory, I highly recommend marinating your chops in the glaze for thirty minutes. And leave yourself time to let them come to room temp (thirty minutes, as well), before you grill them. I assure you, this will leave you with a tender, juicy pork chop, well, if you also let it rest ten minutes after grilled so the juices redistribute! I’m really not asking a lot here I promise!

For the Apricot Glaze:
In a gallon size plastic bag, combine: 1/3 c of your favorite BBQ sauce, 1/3 c Apricot fruit spread, 1 tbsp minced ginger (may use ground if you like, but fresh is best), 1 tbsp apple cider vinegar (though any vinegar will do), and 1/8 tsp crushed red pepper flakes. Smush it around to combine, then add your chops and set in the fridge for as close to thirty minutes as you can.

Keep in mind, you really want to let them come to room temp before you put them on your grill, that in consideration, preheat your grill to close to med heat, if you have the ability, around 350-375. When you place them on the grill, reserve your glaze. Place them in direct heat for 2 minutes per side to sear them, then move them to indirect heat for 15 more minutes, turning half way through and brushing on more of your glaze. If you have a meat thermometer, the center should read at least 145. When you remove them from the grill, let them rest ten minutes! You will have a delectable piece of pork!

Nestled in the woods atop Lookout Mountain, near Mentone, Alabama, this quaint little chapel is surrounded by ferns, forest and flowers. The chapel is a scaled version of traditional Appalachian churches of days gone by. Stained glass windows filtering soft forest sunrays and soft organ music accent an ambience fitting the wedding ceremony. Inside, wooden pews will seat approximately 60 guests.

Linda Patterson, owner of the chapel, said the idea for it began with a bell, and now that bell rings as newlyweds exit the door of the chapel.

HISTORIC CHURCH SEEKS HELP

St. Joseph’s-on-the-Mountain Episcopal Church, whose origin is an 1870 log cabin, now finds that its present building has serious problems. Its foundation is unsound, its walls admit moisture and vermin.

This small church finds itself facing a repair bill of $200,000. The active congregation of 35 members wants to preserve this Mentone icon for worship and prayer.

This church invites those who would like to help, please send your checks to The Groundhog at groundhognews@aol.com or P. O. Box 387, Mentone, AL 35984, with a note that it is for the Church Renewal Fund.
One of ten children, Willie was born at home in Mentone on January 15, 1915. Her parents were the late James and Alice Ruth (Ferrell) Harrison, natives of Mentone. Her siblings Hazell, Verdie, Mamie, Lila, Thomas, Emil, Dewey and Luis are remembered by many native Mentonians. Willie attended elementary school at Moon Lake.

As a young girl, Willie began working in Fort Payne as a housekeeper and there she met Marvin Henderson from the Dogtown area. They were married in 1932 and welcomed a daughter Sarah Ruth Henderson (Owen) in 1933. In 1934, they moved to Rome, Georgia, where Willie worked at a mill and Marvin, a truck driver at the time, managed a service station and a grocery store. Tragically, Marvin died of tuberculosis at the age of 37. Now a single mother, Willie continued to live and work in Rome where she raised her daughter. She was a hard worker and an attentive mother. A friend of Willie's introduced her to Gordon Haynes and they married in Rome in 1952. Upon retiring, Gordon brought Willie back to her beloved Mentone and built a home on property formerly owned by Willie's aunt and uncle, Ola and Jim McNew.

Besides being a dedicated worker and mother, Willie is known for several other wonderful traits. She was a good seamstress and cook. She is especially known for her wonderful pies, and these have been enjoyed by many friends and family over the years. An avid gardener, both vegetable and flowers, she canned for many years and the colorful and bountiful flowers in her yard attest to her green thumb. She is a quiet woman but big in heart and always took time to visit the sick of the community and take food to the family.

A faithful member of Moon Lake Baptist Church, she rarely misses a Sunday service when in town. She is strong in her faith in God and is always willing to give her time and money to help the youth and children with their projects and programs.

Willie's daughter, 6 grandchildren, 17 great grandchildren and 13 great-great grandchildren hosted a party for her at the MERF House on Jan. 10 where many of her family gathered. Five generations were present. Moon Lake Church also had a birthday celebration/reception for her on Sun. Jan. 11th where many friends came to wish her a happy 100th birthday. We are proud of Mrs. Willie and appreciate her life and the love she has for the people of Mentone.
Remember When . . .
By Angie Carden

One year ago this month, I was asked to write a new monthly column titled “Remember When?” In the first article I spoke of how time flies by us all so quickly. Well, as I sit here now, I have come to the realization of just how true that is. The holidays went by so swiftly, and this school year will be over before we can nod our heads. With that in mind, while you are celebrating Valentine's Day with your loved ones this month, please bare in mind that every day is a gift from God and make it your mission to show your family “Valentines” love all year long! That being said, I will tell a little of what you would have seen in the February 1988 issue of the Groundhog. (That's 27 years passed).

On the cover, you would have seen the very familiar, smiling face of Mr. Max Cash sitting in his mail car, which he served 36 years delivering. The article was announcing his well-earned retirement on February 3rd of that year. It went on to say that he had seen his route grow from 43 miles to 73 miles and how he watched the landscape change almost as much as he had seen the seasons come and go.

It described how he began the route after he was appointed by U.S. Representative Albert Rains when he was 27 years old living with his wife Roberta and their family in the house near Moon Lake that, by this time, had been their home for over 40 years.

He spoke of two route books which belonged to Mr. York, who carried the mail for many years. There was no date on one of the books, but it was estimated it was kept sometime around the Depression Era. It read like a “Who's Who” of mountain families and through it we were able to gain insight into not only the mail service of the time, but the family units, friendships, deaths, and moves of the rural people.

Max recalled one of the hardest times he had delivering the mail was in 1960 after a big ice storm left them without power for 18 days. He went on to state that “I went to a meeting of mail carriers years ago, and we were told that we were the nearest thing to a representative of the United States Government that most people would ever see, and for us to treat people right and to help them any way we could and let them have a good opinion of the United States Government. If they needed a gallon of milk, take it to them. Times have changed now, but I remember picking up Mr. John York and giving him a ride with his 100 pound sack of feed and keeping an eye on things for others.”

The article ended with the beautiful words, “This loyal courier may have achieved the ‘swift completion of his appointed rounds’ but there is no one who has lived on a Mentone Rural Route who will not remember his dedication and kindness and who will not wish that this was not the end of an era.” Max was indeed one of Mentone's finest.

Another story you would have seen in that edition of The Groundhog, and one of great importance to me, was about my precious Aunt Ruby Stalvey. She had been running the Chevron in Valley Head for a while and was announcing her return to Mentone to run the store again that is now Helena’s. Anyone that has lived in Mentone any amount of time has dealt with my Aunt Ruby in one store or another! Even her daughter Phyllis and her husband Jim ran that store, then known as “Jim’s” for quite a while. Many of us were happy when Aunt Ruby was back on the mountain. As she put it, “I have many friends in the valley that I love dearly, but my heart and my home are in Mentone.” I couldn't have said that better myself! I, as many of you, have a very special love for this mountain I call home.

The Rhododendron Garden Club
By Mellanie Tuttle

We lost another member in December. Peggy Roark previously held the office of Vice-President, Treasurer and as last year’s President served with kindness, humility and care probably learned during her years as an RN. In the fall, she clerked for the VFW Flower Show, entered a design for the first time and placed second! Not one to draw attention to herself, she quietly pointed out her blue ribbon and had a very satisfied smile on her face. Her steadfastness and all-around niceness will be missed.

The January meeting of the Rhododendron Garden Club was held at the MERF House on Tuesday the 9th. Pledge to the Flag, business meeting and program followed light refreshments served by hostess Mellanie Tuttle. Business meeting news is pretty dry reading but Martha Wood’s horticulture report on invasive plants had information worth noting. Invasive plants can quickly overtake native plants (kudzu can grow one foot per day). Hiking boots and boats can transport unwanted ‘hitchhikers’ so be sure to clean those items after walking or putting into the water. Use native plants and pull up invasive plants already growing in the yard. For a list of plants that are invasive in the state of AL go to www.se-eppc.org/alabama/). Be aware that algae and flora in a fish tank and that seed you toss on the side of the road can also be invasive.

Marsha Merrell, presented an informative program on The Pollinator Challenge and distributed an outstanding handout covering:

The use of “neonics” and genetically modified seeds (GMO) will no longer be used in its National Wildlife Refuge System. More than half the managed honeybees are in the states that those states can participate in an $8 million incentive program by the USDA to replace common cover crops with “nutritious pollinator forage.” In June, President Obama announced a comprehensive federal pollinator initiative to create a federal strategy to save dying pollinators and address the decline in bee populations.

WHAT CAN WE DO?

Plant a variety of plants (especially natives) with overlapping times of bloom and seasons to attract and support our bees and butterflies. www.pollinator.org gives a list of plants for our growing area. Eliminate or at least reduce the use of pesticides in your garden (NO ‘neonics’!). Become involved in community policies and urge your local and national representatives to support legislation and funding to save our pollinators.

Here’s a safe, alternative spray for roses - Hershey Gardens Safe Rose Spray. Roses should be sprayed once every 7-10 days and following a rain as well. Mix one T. vinegar with 1 cup of water. Add 1 ½ T. of baking soda. Add 1 T. each of dish soap and vegetable oil (any cooking oil). Add all this to 1 gal. of water. Spray on plants’ foliage.

Next meeting is Tuesday, February 10th. We will be making pottery containers for small arrangements. Please call Mellanie Tuttle (634-4403) to reserve a space and let that creativity flow! We welcome new folks, no gardening experience necessary!

Sage Advice - Into The Woods
By Susan Seago
Co-Owner of Earthly Elements Garden and Rock Shop

While I write this article, the forecast for this afternoon is cold and snowy, maybe as much as an inch. It will be the first snowfall of the season and a surprise to me. Yesterday, I thought today would be sunny and some warmer than the last two weeks. That's winter in North Alabama for you. While we wait indoors for warmer, sunnier weather, let's think about our gardens and landscapes. It's a great time to look at the garden catalogs you have received or to pour through all the choices through the internet. I like to do both, although the paper catalogs are the best to me. I can keep them by my reading chair and mark my favorites, then return to them whenever I like without leaving my chair. How's that for laziness!!!

I have already started getting calls from clients about spring planting and landscape ideas. My first suggestion (being on the mountain) is to take a walk into the woods around your house. I think most of us have a lot of trees around our homes. Are they evergreens that provide the same amount of shade most of the year? Or are they deciduous (drop their leaves in winter)? That means you will have a good bit of sun in your yard until April 1, at least. So, early spring flowers and flowering shrubs can be planted in these areas. For those areas that get at least five to six hours of sun during the day, sun loving plants can be placed there. Perennials, those that return year after year, are your best bet for a year-round garden.

Next, check your soil. Mountain soil can be full of rocks, but some areas have few rocks and great soil. So, the soil is a very big issue in planning a landscape. And, not only will you be removing a lot of rocks but the soil needs to be amended with good organic material to help retain moisture and add nutrients for better plant growth. If you have good soil, your task is half done.

Back to the light issue – Determine the direction of the sun in your garden. North and south sides of your home will allow much more sun. Many plants like morning sun because it is not so hot in summer, so the east side of the building is good for those plants. The west side gets the afternoon sun. Full sun plants will enjoy it. Why do I sound like a school teacher? Learn to garden correctly and you will have many enjoyable years with your garden.

If you know the names of your trees and plants, take a notepad when you walk into the woods and jot down those that you have in your landscape. This helps in deciding what new or better plants to install. It also helps you determine which plants to remove that are not doing well or need some help. Take your list to your garden center if you need ideas for new or additional plants.

Early February is the best time to prune fruit trees such as apple and pear, but wait until March to prune Peaches. Evergreen shrubs and roses may also be pruned while they are dormant. Contact your local garden center for advice on pruning.

Take a walk into the woods. It will fun and educational!

Valley Head Women’s Club Meets

The Valley Head Area Women’s Club held their January meeting at Kamama in Mentone. Members enjoyed a delicious lunch before the meeting. Afterwards, President Judy O’Daniel called the meeting to order and welcomed new members Karen Holcombe and Brenda Cox. Membership Committee member Evelyn Graves administered the new member pledge. Project Chairman Pat Eberhart reported on pecan sales. All pecans have been sold and people are still calling for more. Next year club members think we should order more cases. Sandra Padgett gave a very interesting and informative program about Kamama and her plans for Mentone. The next meeting will be held February 18 at the Boy Scout House in Mentone and Dr. Ron Merrell will give the program.

Signs by Doug Kiker

Signs – designated to instruct or enlighten, Sometimes the traveler they might frighten.
I remember a sign that gave this clue, “Sinner Beware – Hell Awaits You.”
Then there was the sign in front of the country store, “Dogs – we have a few - they are all gentle. Won’t bite you.”
Another at that same store – “Take your dog home – we don’t need any more.”
One below the board where they wrote the baseball score – “Race your motor – dogs like to sleep under a car’s floor.”
A hand painted sign near a cemetery might make you grin, “Ward Cemetery – Folks are just adying to get in.”
Maybe that answers another sign I saw flopping in the wind, “Can you tell me why this cemetery has a fence six feet high?”
Seen on a crooked road – “No matter which way you go – It has to be slow.”
On a gravestone of a man named Less “The grave took Less – and he’s no more.”
