On the afternoon of June 19, Crystal Lee was driving along County Road 165, approaching Tranquility Campground near Mentone. She thought she saw a large dog move into the woods at the side of the road, but realized it was a mama bear when a cub circled back onto the road, allowing Crystal to grab her phone from her dashboard and take a picture. “I knew if I didn’t get a picture, my husband wouldn’t believe me,” she said with a chuckle.

Auburn University graduate student Hannah Leeper is currently studying the bears in our area for her master’s thesis, which will focus on cub survival and juvenile dispersal. Crystal’s photo is the first Hannah has seen that’s been taken on a well-travelled road, although she has seen photos from wildlife cameras and heard tales of sightings.

“My study is focused on the reproductive ecology of northeast Alabama’s black bears to get a better idea of how big the local population is and how quickly it’s growing,” Hannah said. “We do know it’s growing, but we don’t know how quickly, so we’re looking at the rate of growth and spatial growth—where are they expanding to.”

Letter from the Editor

Summer is flying by. The camps are close to being half way through their seasons. Hopefully work on the new water line on Cutler Avenue will be completed in the near future. Construction on the bridge should begin soon on the west side of the river. I have had several recent discussions with Ladd Environmental on the sidewalk project.

At the last meeting the council elected Kristen Emory town clerk to fill Wilma’s unexpired term. Hours at Town Hall will be 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. five days a week.

Mentone Area Preservation Association

Thanks to all of the MAPA members that came out and attended the annual members’ meeting on Sunday evening, June 23. It was great to have the chance for the board and members to spend some time together and talk about what we’ve been able to accomplish this past year, and opportunities for what’s to come in the future. Also, thanks to Moon and the Wildflower Café for donating the food and refreshments, Rob Hammond and the Town Council for allowing us to use the recently purchased “Kamama” building as the venue for the get together! Susan Seago, MAPA Treasurer, spoke about and explained the specifics of all the grants that MAPA was able to make to local non-profit organizations from July, 2018 through June, 2019, which comprises our fiscal year, in the cumulative amount of $14,492.02. Kelly Leavitt gave a presentation on the “State of the Groundhog” (I’m pleased to report that it is excellent! Thank you Kelly). All current board members then noted their willingness to serve for another term, and were unanimously re-elected by the members, along with a new additional member, Beverly Haynes, who moved to Mentone with her husband David a little over a year ago. We look forward to her insight and contributions and working with her in our ongoing efforts on behalf of MAPA and the greater Mentone community.

On a sad and personal note, my friend and kind thoughtful, giving man, Charles Flannigan, passed away peacefully in his sleep this past Monday with family members at his side. Charles has meant so much to the Mentone community, and to me personally, for many decades. We will miss him terribly.

In parting, I sincerely hope everyone has a wonderful (and safe) 4th of July. Hope to see you soon.

Mark Hoffman is president of the Mentone Area Preservation Association.

MAPA Grants Given This Fiscal Year
(July 1, 2018 to June 30, 2019) by Susan Seago

During the past 12 months, MAPA has given grants to five non-profit organizations in Mentone for a total amount of $14,492.02. Those recipients are:

1. Little River Arts Council for $200 to restore and repaint the worn out games on Moon Lake School’s circular asphalt drive, and enlist the community to help. Monies were used for asphalt paint and supplies.

2. Moon Lake School Library for $968.47 to update and expand the holdings of the Moon Lake School Library related to the topic of state history and geography. They have added 61 books from Titlewave, a source of library bound books that will last for many years.

3. Mentone Bicentennial Committee was granted $2,000 to help with producing the video for the bicentennial celebration in July.

4. Little River Waterkeeper was granted a total of $2,129.10 to purchase testing materials for the summer water testing program and Swim Guide. They post test results on social media sites in order to educate the public about the condition of Little River’s most popular swimming areas and raise awareness about the amazing attributes of Little River and the issues it faces.

5. A total of $9,194.45 was granted to DeSoto Rescue Squad. $3,894.45 was requested to replace the failing batteries and charger of their LifePak 12 cardiac monitors used when responding to calls for assistance. $300 was given to provide food and drink for the Alabama Association of Rescue Squads third quarter state meeting. The remaining $5,000 was given to provide funds for the rescue squad to build a temperature controlled storage-office in a large metal building on the Captain’s property. It will be used for squad business, to obtain DEA licensure, order initial required medications, and order equipment bags to securely carry the new medications. The additional required medicaitons would allow the DeSoto Rescue Squad to be licensed at the Paramedic level and provide on scene care in all situations, including cardiac arrest to the Paramedic level. Currently, they are only able to provide care to the Intermediate level.

Kristen Emory is Mentone’s New Town Clerk

Kristen Emory assumed the position of town clerk for Mentone in late June, following Wilma Fletcher’s retirement. Kristen and her husband, Tom, have lived in Mentone for 17 years, having moved from Selma with their children who were 2 and 4 at the time.

“My parents [Jim and Joan Byrum] had bought a second home here, so we visited a lot,” said Kristen. “We wanted to move to the mountain and learned the Superette was for sale. We fell in love with Moon Lake School and Dr. Berry. That’s really what (continued on page 4)
Four years ago last April, I was asked if I’d like to go with the Rhododendron Garden Club on their annual tour of the “Pocket,” the Shirley Miller Willow Trail at Pigeon Mountain. I jumped at the chance, since I’d heard so much about its beauty but hadn’t been there yet. I filled my camera with images of the wildflowers that year, both bountiful and beautiful. The wealth of knowledge that came from the members of the garden club was most impressive. What few flowers they couldn’t identify, they looked up in a wildflower guide and found their answer quickly.

I was intrigued by the appreciation, knowledge, and camaraderie of the group, so I decided to attend my first meeting the following month, then promptly joined the club. I’ve discovered since then all the benefits this garden club offers its members and the community of Mentone.

The Rhododendron Garden Club is a part of National Garden Clubs, Inc. Their mission is to “provide education, resources, and national networking opportunities for its members to promote the love of gardening, floral design, civic, and environmental responsibility.” The educational goals are met with enthusiasm with each program presented at our meetings. In the past year alone, members have presented programs varying from “Seed Saving” to “Flower Design” to “Moss Gardens” to “Plant Diversity in Alabama.” Each month we have a different subject, new and informative to each of us. We also present a monthly horticulture report and conservation report, so we can stay informed of news and trends in these important facets of gardening and the environment.

Further educational opportunities abound through conferences and courses offered through national and state-wide garden organizations. Whether you want to learn more about environmental concerns or delve more deeply into landscape or flower design, visit a garden, or learn more about growing a particular plant or garden of your own, there will most likely be something available nearby.

A most important aspect of the Rhododendron Garden Club is sharing our time and talents to improve our community. Our members volunteer their time to work with Moon Lake Elementary School students in their after-school program, to educate them in gardening and the environment. We have contributed to the Senior Lunch program offered by MERF (providing food and table decorations) and have adopted the flower bed at the post office. We also take part in the yearly Mentone Clean-up Day, picking up the litter along the stretch of Highway 117 from the post office to the site of the proposed Mentone Arts & Cultural Center, and do a yearly clean-up of the MERF House and post office gardens.

There is also the “show-off” aspect of the garden club. The yearly flower show at the DeKalb County Fair gives us each an opportunity to participate in and exhibit the splendid flower designs we’ve learned to arrange and/or the horticulture we’ve grown over the year (those dazzling dahlias or resplendent roses), with the anticipation of winning a (blue) ribbon (or two).

If you are already a seasoned gardener, or a novice, or want to learn about gardening, care about conservation and the environment, or simply want to share your knowledge and talk gardens with other garden-minded people, we urge you to join the Rhododendron Garden Club. We meet the second Tuesday of each month at the MERF House in Mentone. Our next meeting is Tuesday, July 9, at 10 a.m. We hope to see you there!

DeSoto Falls in the mid-1920s, it was really hard to get to the falls. You essentially walked through the woods.” Holley commented on the impermanence of the structures and other evidence of early settlement in the Mentone area, and credits the photographs that were made at the time as being vital to the process of documentation. “Without the photos, we wouldn’t know about much that once existed. There are only a few written accounts, here and there,” according to Holley.

“One of the biggest resources I had in doing this program,” he continued, “was access to the collection of photographs and postcards that Judge David Raines has, down in Fort Payne. Apparently, in the early part of the century, photographers would come through and make a picture of everything. Anything that was visible, they would make a picture of it and turn it into a postcard. Judge Raines has a heck of a collection of photos he found at garage sales, antique shops, and estate sales. So, for the photographic part of this film, I owe him a great debt. Everybody does.”

This project has been entirely funded by grants from the Alabama Humanities Foundation, a state partner with the National Endowment for the Humanities; the Mentone Area Preservation Association (MAPA); the Menlo-Tillotson Charitable Foundation; and the Alabama Bicentennial Commission. With a budget of $10,000, money has been spent on supplies, like ink cartridges and paper, travel, use of a recording studio and musicians for an original song Holley wrote, and editing. In late summer, a DVD copy of the program will be mailed to every home and post office box on the Mentone mail routes. After the mailing, extra copies will be available at Mentone Town Hall until supplies run out.

"Mentone: Where Little River Runs” will premiere on Saturday, July 6, at the Linger Longer Pavilion behind the Mentone Inn. Bring a chair or blanket and enjoy live music by Larry Joe Hall between 7 and 8 p.m. A fish fry ($10/plate) will be served by Fontana Stinson beginning at 6 p.m. The movie will start at 8 p.m.
The Linger Longer Pop-Up Art Series, sponsored by the Little River Arts Council, continues to showcase a local artist the first Saturday morning of each month at the pavilion behind the Mentone Inn. Artists will be at the pavilion with art demonstrations and work for sale from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m., but they are welcome to “linger longer” if they so choose. Woodcarver Don Highfield will be featured on July 6 and Meg Tannehill Justice on August 3.

Linger Longer Pop-Up Art Series Schedule

- July 6 Don Highfield • WOODCARVING
- August 3 Meg Tannehill Justice • PRINTMAKING
- September 7 Taylor Allison • BLACKSMITHING
- October 5 Eugenia Johnston • WATERCOLOR & MORE

Don Highfield • July 6

Don began carving in 1995 at Horsin’ Around, the carousel horse carving school in Chattanooga, TN. After carving his own horse, currently on display at Nena’s produce in Valley Head, he stayed on at the school as a volunteer instructor and also carved Olivia, the female ostrich who now graces the Coolidge Park Carousel in Chattanooga. Don soon branched out into walking sticks and canes, Celtic crosses and relief panels, and figurines, as well as cottage signs.

Meg Tannehill Justice • August 3

Meg Tannehill Justice is a childhood doodler turned grown-up artist/illustrator. She grew up in the south and currently lives in Scottsboro. She and her husband Jerry share a passion for the mountains and hope to live full-time on their Mentone property soon. An Auburn University graduate, Meg has a degree in fine art and illustration. “I’ve created art for as long as I can remember. It’s always been a part of my life and heart. Most of my art career has been centered around painting,” she explains.

In 2016, Meg began focusing on printmaking. “My art is influenced by all things from nature and the countryside where I live. Favorite subjects include animals, plants, mysteries of nature and the stories they tell. My creative process always starts with an original drawing, either from sketching in the field or from the imagination. Every drawing has been carved into a linoleum block and is printed by hand. Each one is slightly different from the next, making every print one of a kind and unique.”

You can find Meg’s online Etsy Shop at MegTannehillJustice and follow her art process on Instagram and Facebook.

Mentone Home Tour—Call for Homes & Studios

The Little River Arts Council is accepting nominations for its home and artists’ studio tour October 26 and 27. We hope to include at least three homes of artists willing to open their studio space for the tour. If you know of a home that would make a great destination on this year’s tour, email Wil Henry Cobble at wilhenry@boonlink.net or use this link to access an online nomination form: bit.ly/2019LRACTOUR (case sensitive). Deadline for nomination is July 15.
The Mentone Educational Resources Foundation (MERF) is grateful for the many people and organizations that believe in the work being done in Mentone. On May 22, the Harland Jones Fund at the Community Foundation in Anniston choose MERF as a grant recipient this next year to provide Arts Education to all ages and to provide free tutoring to the local students.

G 58! “Bingo, Bingo, Bingo—I’ve got Bingot!” That was the excited voice heard many times on June 13 in the MERF house, where the lunch bunch crew played BINGO with the summer program children at Moon Lake Elementary School’s 21st Century Fun. After several rousing rounds of BINGO, the big (seniors) and little kids headed outside when they heard the beloved melodic music of an ice cream truck! Everyone was able to pick their favorite cold, sweet treat, such as firecracker, fudge, ookie, and cream, or an orange creamsicle. “A Little Something Extra Ice Cream” truck was started by Michelle Norwood and her son, Hunter. It is a mobile ice cream business set up at local events created to give social experiences, life skills, and work skills to people with disabilities. Hunter and crew served us well at the MERF house. See their smiling faces on Facebook.

While Bingo was shaking up the MERF house, Anne McLeod, Amanda Massa, Christy Plunkett, Robert Moehr, and Charlie Stone were creating some great footage for a “Big Idea” grant from the Community Foundation of Northeast Alabama. It is a one-time grant celebrating 20 years of the Longleaf Fund from the Community Foundation. MERF, Little River Arts Council, the Moon Lake Community Library, and many community members worked on the video, which was submitted on June 22. MERF’s “Big Idea” (which we call “A Pathway to Community”) is to enhance MERF’s underused walking trail with outdoor musical instruments, colorful murals, new Adirondack chairs, picnic tables and benches, a creative, attractive fence, outdoor lighting, and more native plants to make the trail more appealing and enjoyable. Mentone needs a safe place to walk and to connect. The Bingo group had a starring role in the drone footage by Charlie Stone. We have to wait until November to know if MERF and the collaborating local organization sold the funders on the Big Idea. In the mean time, stop by the library and Kelly Leavitt can show you the 5-minute video. You’ll definitely want to join in when the time comes to create some of the ideas, like the murals and the fence.

MERF promises more fun in July, too. Join Paula Easter for an art class on Wednesday, July 17, at 10 a.m., followed by a light but fun lunch with the senior lunch bunch crew at 11:30. And MERF will be participating in the Community gathering hosted by the Moon Lake Library outside on the walking track on Saturday, July 20, from 1 until 3 p.m. Come enjoy and get to know your neighbors! And for any mom with young ones, the MERF moms are meeting weekly at the MERF house on Thursdays beginning at 10. For more info, contact Sarah at merf.mentone@gmail.com. Just like ice cream, stay cool and be sweet!

Sarah Wilcox is Executive Director of MERF, a local non-profit organization whose mission is “to enrich the learning and living of the community by identifying needs and coordinating resources.” If you would like to support our programs, tax-deductible donations can be mailed to P.O. Box 107, Mentone, AL 35984, or you may contribute online at merfhouse.org. Contact Sarah at merf.mentone@gmail.com or 256-635-8193 for more information.

Once upon a time…” is the way a lot of good stories begin, and this is one of those stories. Followed by the anxiously awaited “…lived happily ever after,” but we will get back to that later.

The giraffe is a tall and graceful animal. Through some hopeful dreaming and thoughtful, careful planning The Graceful Giraffe raised her head proudly, stretched out her long, slender legs, and started to run.

And run she did. An unlikely chance meeting of an auto mechanic originally from Kenya and an Atlanta couple resulted in a decades-long friendship and created an opportunity to offer hand-crafted items from Kenya and other African countries.

In the fall of 2011, my late husband, Rick, and I moved from Atlanta to Mentone and we brought with us this dream. In the spring of 2013, we opened our shop and The Graceful Giraffe was born!

I am so proud of all the good The Graceful Giraffe has done over these 6 and a half years. Artists from all over the world have been represented in our shop, and the philosophy of fair trade which we follow has empowered many artists, allowing them to better support their families and to improve conditions in their own communities.

Global fair trade allows parents to provide better housing, send their children to school, improve their community’s sanitation and infrastructure, and so on. We have supported orphanages in some of the poorest districts in Kenya through after school and lunch programs. Our small shop alone has contributed hundreds of school meals.

Recognizing that Mentone is a community full of artists, The Graceful Giraffe has also provided a platform for 17 local artists to showcase and sell their work. We have gladly supported many worthwhile organizations here in Mentone by contributing items for silent auctions, etc. We have proudly donated a portion of our proceeds from some sales to national charities like Friends of the Animals and Doctors Without Borders, and have proudly supported our favorite local charity, the Tri-State Humane Society, through some of our favorite lines of merchandise.

Many of you knew my late husband Rick and prayed for him during his five-year battle with cancer, and you prayed for strength and perseverance for me during that time and in the months after he passed. This community and our customers have become friends. Each of you is a blessing.

At the end of July, The Graceful Giraffe will reach the end of her run and begin a hard-earned rest. While remaining active in the community, I will be closing the door of the shop one last time, and both The Graceful Giraffe and I will be retired.

Thank you so much for helping me realize my dream. You have made The Graceful Giraffe a success! God bless.

The Valley Head Junior Beta Club recently attended the National Beta Club Convention on Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, where they competed in 12 competitions after placing in 18 at state.

Twelve students traveled to OKC by both plane and car. Funds were raised through a 10-4-10 raffle, where students received a 100% of tickets sold due to donations they gathered for the raffle. Sightseeing included the Oklahoma City Bombing Memorial, the Firefighters Museum, and the Cowboy Museum. Some of the students also enjoyed White Water Park. This was the first national convention for all the kids who attended this year except for two.

River Voice by Bill Shugart

Work has started on the Southern Exposure Film about Little River!

As you may know, Southern Exposure is sponsored by the Alabama Rivers Alliance and made possible through the support and partnership with environmental and conservation groups across the state. Southern Exposure Film Fellows who are selected for the program create captivating films that give viewers a sense of how much Alabama has to offer and the importance of protecting its resources.

Just recently, Angie and I met up with Southern Exposure Filmmaker Jeb Brackner and his colleague Matt Gracic, on what was the most perfect 1st day of summer that can be imagined at our favorite spot on Lookout Mountain, The May’s Cabin, which overlooks DeSoto Falls. (It might be our favorite spot because we were married there.)

The main topic of the Southern Exposure film will be the process of getting Little River listed as Wild & Scenic. It will be ready to screen this fall. Little River Waterkeeper has teamed up with the Little River Canyon Center to present this year’s debut of Southern Exposure on Thursday, September 26, at 6 p.m. Please mark your calendars. We hope you can join us for this inspiring and informative annual event.

About the film makers

Jeb Brackner is a filmmaker whose roots in Alabama stretch from his childhood as a Montgomery native to his education in film and psychology from the University of Alabama. Nature is one of Jeb’s leading inspirations, and he is very passionate about environmental justice, especially throughout his home state. Cinematic storytelling, whether it be narrative or documentary, is another of his passions, and he hopes to make a career out of it through a production company he’s creating with two of his college colleagues.

Matthew J. Gracic is an award-winning filmmaker and a photographer who participated as a film fellow for the 2016 Southern Exposure Films and since then moved to Birmingham, Alabama to work for Alabama Public Television. He volunteers his time to assist Southern Exposure Film Fellows during their internship. What I really like about Matt is his love of environment. I am hoping to learn how to tell stories with film from Matt.

Over the next 6 weeks, we will explore in and around the Little River Watershed to document how this amazing river has impacted the community historically, culturally, and economically to build the case for why Little River should be designated as a Wild and Scenic River. If you have a great story about how Little River is a part of your life, please email us at wyshugart@littleriverwaterkeeper.org. We would love to hear it. We will choose a couple of lucky submissions to be interviewed for a spot in the film!

Why Wild & Scenic?

The National Wild and Scenic Rivers System was created by Congress in 1968 (Public Law 90-542; 16 U.S.C. 1271 et seq.) to preserve certain rivers with outstanding natural, cultural, and recreational values in a free-flowing condition for the enjoyment of present and future generations. The Wild and Scenic Rivers Act safeguards the special character of these rivers, while also recognizing the potential for their appropriate use and development. It encourages river management that crosses political boundaries and promotes public participation in developing goals for river protection.

A Wild and Scenic designation would further protect the river’s scenic and recreational values as the surrounding area grows. It would ensure that the experiences and economic benefits Little River provides today will be there for future generations.

Little River Swim Club

Weekly Water Tests from 9 favorite swimming spots have been consistently clean this summer with only a few exceptions. Last week, we observed a spike in e-coli tests on the East Fork of Little River at Lake Lahusage that registered >2419.6 col/ 100ml. Dangerously high and over the maximum number the test can detect. The EPA and State level for “Do not Swim” is 235 col/100ml. LRW continued to monitor the spike as the lake returned to safe levels over the next week. The cause of the spike was undetermined. Subsequent tests confirmed the spike was not a testing error. You can find weekly test results on Little River Waterkeeper’s website. https://littleriverwaterkeeper.org. Become a member of Little River Swim Club. Your $10 donation directly sponsors one e-coli test and we give a shoutout on social media to you!

home or anticipating being stopped. Oh, and Bud Light is not good to the last drop, as there is almost always a swallow left in the can!

The soft drink travelers don’t care about calories. They must be going for taste. Coke, Mountain Dew, and Dr. Pepper are the favorite drinks thrown out. The interesting fact is that most people don’t finish their Dr. Pepper. Go figure!

Changing the subject from drinks, there are two types of tobacco users—spitters and smokers. The spitters of tobacco have their favorite spots to throw out the plastic containers and cans filled with the tobacco drippings. This compares to the cigarette smokers and small cigar smokers, who deposit their butts along the whole route.

People who throw out their fast food bags are fast drivers; I know this because the contents typically scatter out of the bag. Wrappers, Styrofoam containers and cups, and the five customary napkins spill out onto the ground for all to see the culinary intake. The wrappers are crumbled and the Styrofoam cups are complete with a lid and straw inserted. If there is a Styrofoam cup by itself, it is usually shredded to pieces. Are these passengers nervous due to their fast drivers?

The travelers of this route enjoy their candy. Chocolate is the best, and Reese’s Cups and M & M’s are the favorites. Juicy Fruit is the favorite gum.

Now along the Lake Lahusage route, there are travelers who are dreamers, evidenced by the number of lottery tickets thrown out. They are forever hopeful, as the number of tickets never decrease.

Folks who travel this route. Some of the travelers perform manual labor. You can tell by the plastic wrappers from cases of water, or the gloves and shirts by the side of the road. There have been wood frames, insulation, and porcelain pieces found after taking flight from the bed of a pickup.

Unfortunately, some of the travelers have issues with drugs. Syringes with needles and crack pipes have been thrown out along the road. Fortunately, they are not typically found.

So you see, trash does tell you about the travelers, and I listen as it tells me various stories, much as an archaeologist would study artifacts from long ago!

Many thanks to Joe and Tessa Hughes for their generous donation (which will be matched by Tessa’s company). Thanks also to Kenneth Shigley for his donation of Moon Lake School yearbooks from the years 1952 and 1953. If you’d like to see them, please feel free to come by the library and have a look.

Everyone was enthralled by Mike Ellis’ magic show in June…many thanks to Mike for presenting his fun and inspiring program, “The Magic of Reading.” (Did you know…he learned how to do magic from a BOOK!)

We have many programs slated for July, both fun and educational. Our summer social was so much fun last year that one of the grandmothers who brought her grandchildren asked for the date in early May, saying she wanted to plan their summer schedule around it. It’s on Saturday, July 20, and I hope you’ll find it as fun as she did. If you fancy yourself a pie baker, please enter our pie contest! This year’s pie judges will be Mentone Police Chief Gene McKee, Fire Chief Joseph Lee, and DeSoto Rescue Squad 2nd Lieutenant JD Trammell. Mentone Town Clerk Kristen Emory will coordinate the contest for us. Once the winning pies have been picked, everyone can gather around and eat them! As well, MERF has arranged for an ice cream truck to be at the social, so bring some money for your favorite cold summer treat! (Everything else is free.)

Some of our patrons have been asking for help with their Kindle e-readers, so if you, too, would like some assistance, we’ll be happy to help. Bring your Kindle to the library during open hours and we can give you a brief tutorial on how to use it.

Don’t forget…we have computers and a printer/copier for your use at no charge. People have used them for job applications, tax forms, signing up for utilities, and other purposes. You might be surprised by how many travelers on Hwy. 117 stop in and use the computers for directions. It’s been very helpful to have them available to the public, and the library remains grateful to MAPA for funding the grant to purchase them.

We’ve received many donations of books recently, and we’ve bought many as well, so stop by and see what’s new.

Moon Lake Community Library is a true community library, run by a board of directors as a non-profit organization, we are not tied to the county system, so our rules can be more flexible.

The Lookout Mountain Knitters continue to meet each Tuesday at 3 to enjoy knitting and crocheting together, often helping one another suss out a complicated pattern. They’ve also been helping newbies refine their technique. There’s always a lot of laughter around the tables when they’re there. Feel free to join them if you’re interested.

We are open Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. See you at the library!

Mentone Wedding Chapel

Candle Lite Ceremonies
Music · Photographs
Flowers · Receptions
Lodging · Limousine

Nestled in the woods atop Lookout Mountains, near Mentone, Alabama, this quaint little chapel is surrounded by ferns, forest and flowers. The chapel is a scaled version of traditional Appalachian churches of days gone by. Stained glass windows filtering soft forest sunrays and soothing mountain music accent an ambiance fitting the wedding ceremony. Inside, wooden pews will seat approximately 60 guests.

Linda Patterson, owner of the chapel, said the idea for it began with a bell, and now that bell rings as newlyweds exit the door of the chapel.

Dot Mandala Rock Painting
Saturday, July 13 @ 1 pm

Painting dot mandalas on rocks is a very relaxing activity that produces a beautiful piece of art at the same time. Kerry Breithaupt has offered to donate smooth river rocks and she’ll teach us how to paint on them using tools that provide perfect circles. All supplies will be provided. A $10 donation is suggested. Pre-registration is required by emailing kerryblmt@gmail.com.

Moon Lake Book Club 7/20 @ 10:30 am

Join fellow book lovers on for a discussion of Magpie Murders by Anthony Horowitz. Time magazine says, “Anthony Horowitz’s Magpie Murders is catnip for classic mystery lovers… With its elegant yet playful plotting, Magpie Murders is the thinking mystery fan’s ideal summer thriller.”

The book club will meet on Saturday, July 20, at 10:30 a.m. at Moon Lake Community Library in Mentone (where the book is available for check-out). Everyone is welcome to join the discussion. Coffee and hot tea will be served.

Author Talk: Lanier Isom 7/22 @ 6:30 pm

Author Lanier Isom is a part-time Mentone resident who co-wrote Grace and Grit: My Fight for Equal Pay and Fairness at Goodyear and Beyond with Lily Ledbetter.

Lilly was born in the small town of Possum Trot, Alabama, into a home without running water and electricity. She eventually secured a position in management at the Goodyear plant in Gadsden, one of the first women to be hired at this level. No matter how well she performed in her position, though, Lilly faced daily sexual harassment and pranks, and an unconcealed reluctance to work alongside (or below) a woman.

Lilly pressed onward, believing that eventually things would change, that her hard work and high performance would make a difference. Instead, the more she achieved, the worse she was treated.

Nearly 20 years after her first day at Goodyear, she received an anonymous note in her mailbox that revealed she was making thousands less per year than the men in her position. She filed a sex discrimination case against Goodyear and won—and then lost on appeal.

Incredibly, her case made it all the way to the Supreme Court, where she lost again: the court ruled that she should have filed suit within 180 days of her first unequal pay check—despite the fact that she had no way of knowing that she was being paid unfairly all those years. In a dramatic moment, Justice Ruth Bader Ginsberg read her dissent from the bench, urging Lilly to fight back. And fight Lilly did, becoming the namesake of President Obama's first official piece of legislation: the Lilly Ledbetter Fair Pay Restoration Act.

Lanier Isom will speak at Moon Lake Community Library on Monday, July 22, at 6:30 p.m. about her experience writing this important book, and about her life as a writer. (She's currently over 200 pages into writing a memoir.) This program is free and open to all ages.

Light refreshments will be served. The library is located at 4607 AL Highway 117 in Mentone.

Summer Family Programs

Games and Legos

Saturday 7/13 @ 10 am

Children and adults alike are invited to come out for a Saturday morning Game and Lego Day. Put the electronics away and sit down for a round of Apples to Apples, dominoes, chess, checkers, and other fun games. Get ready for some intergenerational competition as you try out new games and enjoy old favorites.

ALL About Bears

Saturday 7/27 @ 10 am

The whole family is invited to this special program on black bears with Auburn University graduate student Hannah Leeper, who is currently studying the bears in our area for her master's thesis. Get expert advice on what to do if you spot a bear, and learn about their habitats and behaviors. Hannah will show photos of her work with the bears, and also describe what it's like to “catch” one!

Cloudland News by Pat Johnson
Cloudland’s Fun Run with Barbecue and Yard Sale on July 6

O utdoors this summer be held July 6, 2019. The Fun Run course will start at Cloudland Community Park on Gadsden Ave. in Cloudland, GA, and make a loop through Gadsden Ave., Atlanta Ave., Golf Course Rd., County Road 103, and Cloudland Drive, which are all within the Cloudland community in both Georgia and Alabama. The course includes moderate to steep hills. We welcome runners, walkers, and children on bikes of all ages and experiences.

If you would like to participate in the Fun Run, the registration fee will be $30 when you register on the day of the event. Runners and bikers will receive a complimentary t-shirt and a goody bag. Bikers must also register and must wear a helmet. The run will begin promptly at 7:30 a.m. Remember all times are on Eastern time! All runners and bikers will need to arrive early enough to sign in and be ready to go by 7:30 a.m. Registration begins at 6 a.m.

We are including a community yard sale from 10 a.m. – 2 p.m. with the festivities this year. Bring your items for sale and set up in the park to ensure that everything is locked up. This visit was quite a contrast to the earlier visit, when the happy noise echoed throughout the park under the careful attention of the accompanying adults. Upon entering the park, the kids were given free run of the place and the play equipment. It made me go back to the place. Later, I went over to check on them and to make sure they had plenty of supplies. It was impossible to become caught in the excitement as I heard the happy sounds of so many children at play. It made me go back in memory to my own childhood—to the simplicity of the time in which I had grown up, and of my own fun times ahead in the park for other children who would be enjoying it. A little later, I went back to the park to ensure that everything was locked up. This visit was quite a contrast to the earlier visit, when the happy noise echoed throughout the old park. Now, it seemed almost eerily quiet and very lonesome. As I was checking on things, there was a light breeze stirring in the park, and I noticed a couple of empty swings moving with the wind. For a moment, it seemed a little melancholic that the fun day had come to an end, but I knew there would be plenty of fun times ahead in the park for other children who would be enjoying it during the summer. Just as those kids did in 1915, and those kids did in May, future generations of kids will enjoy Lawrence Park, and it will remain a place of old memories and a place to make new ones.

School is out now, and the kids have begun their vacation—to spend the lazy, hazy days of summer in fun and play. In late May, on one of the very last days of school, one of the classes, a kindergarten class, spent most of the day in Menlo’s Lawrence Park, which was named for the founder of our fair town who donated the park “as a playground for the children of the generations forever.” I knew about this because one of the teachers came to city hall to borrow a key to the restrooms. I just happened to be outside the office when the kids, walking in single file, arrived at the park under the careful attention of the accompanying adults. Upon entering the park, the kids were given free run of the place and the play equipment. It made me go back in memory to my own childhood—to the simplicity of the time in which I had grown up, and of my own fun times ahead in the park for other children who would be enjoying it. They had a ceremony that day, as the students and teachers stood around the flag pole. I recall reading of recitations, songs, solos, and speeches. After the ceremony, the students marched back up the hill to the school.
Home Health Services with Medicare by Lynn Hixon

You can use your home health benefits under Part A and/or Part B to pay for home health services. You pay 20% of the Medicare-approved amount, and the Part B deductible applies, for Medicare-covered medical equipment.

Medicare covers medically necessary part-time or intermittent skilled nursing care, and/or physical therapy, speech-language pathology services, or continued occupational therapy services. A doctor, or certain health care professionals who work with a doctor, must see you face-to-face before a doctor can certify that you need home health services. A doctor must order your care, and a Medicare-certified home health agency must provide it.

Home health services may also include medical social services, part-time or intermittent home health aide services, durable medical equipment, and medical supplies for use at home. You must be homebound, which means:

- You are normally unable to leave your home because it’s a major effort.
- Leaving your home isn’t recommended because of your condition.
- You’re normally unable to leave your home because it’s a major effort.

What I Found in a Thousand Towns offers Dar Williams’s unique perspective on community building—and rebuilding—in towns and cities facing economic and societal challenges. What makes some communities thrive, while in others, one shuttered shopfront leads to another and another? As a touring musician, Williams has played all over the country, returning over and over to certain places whose residents speak of their town not just with pride but with real affection.

Her own town of Beacon, New York, in the Hudson Valley, is one such place, which, after a series of stops and starts, at last came into its own with a vibrant downtown scene. Interestingly, the development of a world class museum in Beacon was not by itself enough to launch the town's revival. Instead, Williams notes that the right mix of friendly and accommodating cafes, coffeehouses, and bars along with public spaces like small parks and sidewalks made for a town where people had opportunities to interact with one another, creating the “positive proximity” that built community.

According to Williams, promoting positive proximity depends on three factors: spaces that facilitate interaction; an understanding of the town's social/cultural/historical identity; and translation, which she defines as “acts of communication that open up a town to itself and to the world.” The book offers overviews of towns and small cities that have made the most of their assets, such as the natural beauty of Moab, Utah, the waterfront of Wilmington, Delaware, the arts community of Carrboro, North Carolina, the farm-to-food movement in the Finger Lakes region of New York, and others. These examples support the idea that thoughtful and sustainable development comes from knowing one’s own community and all its resources, and then harnessing creative energy to solve problems or to meet goals.

In recent months, people have come together in Mentone to consider “creative placemaking” and what it might mean to our town. While that is not a phrase Williams uses in this book, those who are looking for a better understanding of what creative placemaking involves would do well to read What I Found in a Thousand Towns to see what the results of those efforts might look like.

What I Found in a Thousand Towns by Dar Williams is available for checkout from the Moon Lake Community Library.

Anne McLeod is the Moon Lake School librarian.

1982
The Garden Club has plans underway for the planting of rhododendron along the roadside in the town proper and later, along DeSoto Parkway.

1983
The Town Council voted yes to provide full-time police protection at their last meeting. An officer will go from 25 hours a week to 40 hours a week, being on call 24 hours a day.

1985
The Groundhog reported on the newly installed fire hydrants—seven in all—in town. Located at Moon Lake School, Camp DeSoto, Mentone Superette, Clyde’s Beauty Shop, Hobson Kirby’s home, as well as 2 others. These 7 new hydrants help make residents safer, as well as lower insurance rates.

1986
From July 1 until July 3, Mentone had no water at all due to a leak in the water main, near the rock bridge just above DeSoto State Park. The leak was repaired and water began to flow adequately on July 5.

1987
The Town Council approves cable TV installation in Mentone.

1992
Historic Mentone Springs Hotel was up for sale, at a reduced price of $165,000.

2000
Mentone is included in the new guidebook titled National Geographic, “Guide to Small Town Escapes.”

2001
Moon Lake School Library building has begun. The site preparation began in June with the projected completion date of Dec 2001.”Guide to Small Town Escapes.”

Bears are going to become part of the habitat around here, and so it’s important for people to understand that and know what they can do to prevent nuisances,” said Hannah. “Bears are opportunistic omnivores. We consider them to be like large raccoons. If a raccoon will go for something, then a bear likely will, too. The most important thing is letting them know that you’re there, so flip a light on before you send your dog out at night. When feeding your pet outside, only serve the portion your pet will eat and don’t leave any remainder. Making a little bit of noise as you go outside will let a bear know you’re there, if one’s in your yard. Generally, there won’t be any problems.

“The big thing with bears is startling them,” she continued. “That’s when they become a little bit more aggressive. As long as you let them know you’re there, bears don’t generally cause a problem at all. Don’t put your trash out until it’s ready to be picked up, leave your barbeque grill clean and lock it up in a shed if you can. Leave bird feeders up high. If a bear finds your feeder, take the feeder inside for a couple of days. You want to prevent the reward. If a bear is rewarded with food, he’ll keep coming back. But if you eliminate that, he’ll find a new food source and quickly leave you alone.”

Hannah hasn’t heard of many nuisance problems, but did hear one report of a bear getting into a bee hive. “Generally, people think bears are going for the honey, but that’s just a sweet surprise,” she said. “They’re actually going after the larvae, because it’s such a rich supply of protein. If that’s a problem for people, the easiest solution is to install an electric fence and move the hive away from any forested areas, so it makes it riskier for a bear to be in open space. If they find your deer feeder, let it be empty for a while before you fill it up again.”

Bears tend to stay near water, using tributaries and creeks as travel corridors. They can travel several miles within the span of a couple hours, and it’s common for them to branch off a creek and go to higher ground, trying to establish a home range. Like a teenager being sent out, they’re trying to find their way. It’s a little bit more risky for them this time of year, but they’ll establish a range and start settling down. The females stick around closer. They’ll tend to share a home range boundary with their mother. Bears are crepuscular, which means they prefer dawn and dusk. “To avoid humans and the day’s heat,” said Hannah, “they tend to travel more at night, but this time of year we see them out during the day as well.”

Hannah’s study is mainly focussed on the areas of Mentone, Fort Payne, Little River, and DeSoto State Park. She has caught seven bears this year. “Some are really close to town,” she said. “I think people would be surprised to know how close bears are to town and that some of these bears are passing through their back yards. Bears are very, very secretive. For being such large black creatures, they do blend in to their surroundings really well. They do a good job of concealing themselves and staying away from humans.”

A trap is a cage the size of a golf cart which sits on a trailer. It has bait in the back and when a bear pulls on it, a door falls down and traps it inside. The trap has a satellite camera, and Hannah is alerted when a bear has been trapped. She has helpers from the state park and national preserve, as well as volunteer land owners who help with the actual work-up, but Hannah does the baiting, setting up the trap, and scouting by herself. When she and her team of helpers arrive at the trap, Hannah anesthetizes the bear through holes in the side. “We pull it out of the trap, weigh it, and measure its body. It gets a PIT tag, an ear tag, and a GPS collar,” she explained.

The largest bear Hannah has caught weighed 314 pounds. “I wouldn’t be surprised to see or hear of a 400-pound male,” she said, “but that’s about as big as they get. Females are generally a lot smaller, more like 200 pounds. The yearling cubs might weigh about 75 or 80 pounds.”

I asked if bear spray would be helpful to people to have. “It’s a personal preference,” said Hannah. “If it helps people feel more secure, they should have some. I’m a firm believer in letting your presence be known. Talk while you’re walking in the woods, make noise so the animals around you know that you’re coming through. They’ll move off before you even know they’re there. If you happen to see a bear, don’t be scared, just enjoy the sighting.”

Hannah Leeper will present a free multi-media program for children and anyone else interested in knowing more about bears on Saturday, July 27, at 10 a.m. at Moon Lake Community Library in Mentone.
